

Re-advert: Request for Proposals to Redesign and Develop MEFMI Web Enabled PCMS

MEFMI is inviting suitably qualified firms to submit Technical and Financial proposals to redesign and develop its web-based Private Capital Monitoring System (PCMS) which was first developed in 2007. MEFMI is utilising Version 3 of the system which is being used by seven (7) of the 14 MEFMI member countries, to capture and report private sector investment data. The assignment is to redesign and develop the PCMS into a more robust system taking into account desired enhancements from current users, as well as the envisaged increased user capacity arising from potential users of the system from within and beyond the MEFMI region. The scope of the project includes reviewing user specifications, redesigning and developing the system, user testing and review of system functionality, uploading data into the system and ensuring accessibility over the internet, training of users and MEFMI IT regional experts, development of a user manual and a technical manual.
